A CARD.

EDITORS OF THE SOUTHERN ARGUS, Sirs—In the local column of your valued paper, published a few days ago, you stated that a negro had been exhumed on Washington Point, and a post mortem examination held; and the result arrived at was that he died with the bilious cholic.

In order to vindicate myself from the foul aspersion sought to be put on me by the owner, Chas. H. Sheild, I deem it proper to state the fact. The negro was taken sick and died suddenly as stated from the causes given, and his owner was notified of the fact, and ordered him to be buried on my premises. After the burial was complete, I found the owner had obtained the basest and most infamous falsehoods from the negro woman who shrouded him, and upon which he relied as facts.

He, Chas. H. Sheild, must have known me from reputation, and I believe my character has always stood as fair and honorable as his or any other living man, and I am at a loss to account for his actions unless based on an intentional purpose to do me personal injury. I have felt it my duty to make this statement to the public to whom I have been so long and I believe favorably known, in order to correct any errors that may have obtained circulation derogatory to me.

POETRY.

MY HUSBAND USES TOBACCO.

He sits in his chair from morning to night
'Tis smoke, chew, smoke—
He rises at dawn his pipe to light,
Goes puffing and chewing with all his might
Till the hour of sleep. 'Tis his delight
To smoke, chew, smoke.

The quid goes in when his pipe goes out,
'Tis chew, chew, chew;
Now, a cloud of smoke pours from his throat,
Then his mouth sends a constant stream afloat,
Sufficient to carry a mill or a boat,
'Tis chew, chew, chew.

He sits all day in a smoke or fog.
'Tis puff, puff, puff,
He growls at his wife, the cat and dog,
He covers with filth the carpet and rug,
And his only answer when I give him a jog,
Is puff, puff, puff.

The house all o'er, from end to end,
Is smoke, smoke, smoke—
In whatever room my way I wend,
If I take his old clothes to patch and mend.
Ungrateful odors will ascend
Of smoke, smoke, smoke.

At home or abroad, afar or near,
'Tis smoke, chew, smoke—
His mouth is stuffed from ear to ear,
Or puffing the stump of a pipe so dear,
And his days will end I verily fear,
In smoke, smoke, smoke.

Young ladies, beware! live single indeed,
Ere you marry a man who uses 'the weed;'
Better that husbands you ever should lack,
O,
Than marry a 'husband that uses tobacco.'

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE LAST BULLET.

AN INCIDENT OF COMMODORE STEWART'S ALGERINE EXPERIENCE.

The United States ship of-war Constellation, was anchored in the harbor of Algiers, whither she had proceeded under command of Commodore Preble, having on board among other officers, Charles Steward, then acting lieutenant, and the man the old Commodore looked to for assistance in fighting the Algerines.

It was the watch of young Stewart, and he was pacing to and fro upon the deck, about half an hour after sunset, as he saw a small boat, containing a single person, coming off from the Old Port, as the western part of the town is called; and heading directly for the ship.

This person was rowing with all his might, and Stewart was not long in discovering the cause. Close behind this single boatman was seen a large Sallee rover, filled with men, whose presence was announced by a continual firing at him of whom they were in such determined pursuit—holding on their way until they were under the gun of the Constellation.

'Now by my soul,' cried Stewart, 'may I be shot, if I do not teach those fellows a lesson. Stand by, Mr. Rogers,' he added, addressing a favorite gunner, 'to throw a little grape into that fellow.'

An instant later, a wreath of smoke curled up from the shore side of the vessel, and as the report went booming over the water, the iron messenger sped upon its way, crashing into the pursuing boat, severely wounding two or three of her crew.

She instantly turned to go back at the same time that the fugitive reached his destination, and came up the side into the presence of the officer of the deck.

He was an elderly man, with a stout frame, and brownish features; but it did not require but a single glance from the lieutenant to see that he was of English or American descent. As soon as he was sufficiently recovered from his over exertion to breath, he went on to tell his story, to which Lieutenant Stewart listened with much excitement and great interest.

The new comer was an American citizen, named James Collins, a native of New York, who with his wife and his daughter had been taken from an American vessel at the same time as the commander and crew, two years before, by an Algerine pirate. His wife had since died, and he and his daughter had been enduring, since his capture all the horrors of a hopeless and aggravated captivity. But the worst part of the poor man's story, and that which moved Lieutenant Stewart the most, was the announcement that his daughter, a gentle and beautiful girl was on the very eve of being forced into a detestable union with the very wretch who had brought her and her father as slaves.

'My agony at these circumstances culminated not two hours ago,' finished the father, 'when I struck the persecutor insensible at my feet and fled. By dint of exertion, I managed to reach the water's side and embarked before the pursuers could prevent it. But though I have succeeded in reaching this place of safety, my poor Alice is still in the power of her tormentor; exposed to his vengeance and I am almost crazy at thinking that she may even now be subjected to a fate worse than death! If I could guide a good boat's crew, under your orders——'

'One moment' interrupted Stewart.—'Stay where you are till I have seen Preble?'

One moment the young lieutenant was engaged with his commander within the cabin, and then he came forth with a stern smile of satisfaction on his features. Ten minutes more had not passed, ere a cutter, with twelve chosen men, pushed off into the darkness with the lieutenant, and the stranger in the stern, and rapidly struck out for the shore.

'Our owner,' said Mr. Collins, 'resides in the western part of the city. There is a coast guard established, but I do not apprehend that we shall have any special trouble from that source. I think that we can land below, go up the streets to the house, and carry off my child without the loss of a man.'

The boat is landed, after twenty minutes' rapid progress, at a small wharf near the Galeta, in the western part of town. The arrival was certainly witnessed, but no great deal of attention was bestowed upon it by the stupid Algerines. Leaving part of his men in the cutter, with orders for them to lie low under the wharf, Lieut. Stewart, and the remainder of his forces followed the footsteps of Mr. Collins, who led the way readily up the intervening streets.

On arriving at his late prison, an old dingy-looking structure, extremely spacious, having all the loosness of the Moorish style, the party discovered that silence and darkness were the principal feature of the scene. Not a sound was heard, nor a word uttered. The whole building seemed deserted. The agony of the father was extreme.

'Oh, my child! my child!' he cried, no longer able to control the terrible emotions which had been surging in his soul during the last hour; 'shall I never see the more?'

A Moorish slave came around from the rear of the building, and assured his late fellow-captive that the girl had been carried off by the master, and that no one was at home save himself. But even as the lying rascal uttered the concluding words, a wild shriek resounded through the chambers, and the next moment a young and beautiful girl of seventeen summers appeared at one of the front windows, looking like a spectre in her robes of spotless white.

'My child—my Alice!' exclaimed Mr. Collins.

'Save me, father,' was the response, and wild shouts and groans were heard proceeding from the interior of the building; the maiden threw herself from the window, into the arms of her father and Lieut Stewart.

The very moment of this re-union was destined to be that, in which a company of Algerine troops came round the nearest corner, marching up the street in the direction of Lieut. Stewart and his men.—It was also at the same time when the old old Moore, who had so long considered himself the proprietor of Mr. Collins and his daughter, came to the window thro' which the girl had passed, and set up a startling yell.

'This way,' cried Mr. Collins, and he dashed open the front door of the building and conducted the entire party within.—'Look to your weapons, and take the rascals off their pins the moment they halt.'

A sharp and determined struggle soon commenced, in the course of which, the Moorish soldiers were half killed, while the remainder finally gave way. But the rescuers had expended all their ammunition, and only a single bullet was remaining—that, in a large horse pistol in the possession of Lieut. Stewart. He was just wondering what he should do with it, when the old Moor came down stairs, with a huge sabre in his grasp, and made a furious dash at Mr. C. and his daughter, with murder written on his features, and flashing from his eyes. This sudden arrival decided the destination of the last bullet.

'Take it, you black devil,' cried Stewart, just as the fearful blow was descending, and he fired his weapon, the ball passing through and through the miscreant's head, and bringing him dead to the floor.

'Now, boys, added Lieut. S., we are going to finish with a hand to hand fight. The powder and ball are out; we must trust to the swords!

Closely followed by his men, as well as Mr. Collins and Miss Alice, the Lieut. led the way to the boat. It seemed as if all the city had turned out to witness the triumphal retreat; the streets being filled with thousands of men and women collected together by the brief contest at the Moor's house, but not an attempt was made to intercept the progress of the party, the bravest of the natives contenting themselves, with scowls and denunciations.

Ten minutes later, the rescuers were at the cutter. Twenty minutes more, and the party were safely back to the Constellation, not having lost a man. The young Lieut. received the hearty thanks of his superior, to say nothing of the gratitude of Mr. Collins and his child, whose family proved to be of some importance in New York, and we are assured that Charles Stewart was never happier in his life, than when she was united to one of his 'chums,' a noble-hearted lieutenant, now a Commodore, who fell in love with the rescued maiden during the Constellation's homeward passage.

A CHRISTIAN'S HOME.—A little Hottentot girl, when very sick, said to her teacher, "I want to go home." He replied, "you are at home, my dear; this is your home; but still she repeated, "I want to go home." Her teacher then asked, "what home is it you want to go to?" when she replied, "The home of the narrow way."

LETTER FROM THE HON. DANIEL E. SICKLES.

Mr. Daniel E. Sickles sends the following letter to the New York Herald:

NEW YORK, July 19, 1859.

Through the present course of said events which, during the last few months, have brought so much affliction upon my family, I have been silent. No amount of misrepresentation affecting myself only could induce me now to open my lips; nor could I deem it worth while, under any circumstances, to notice what has been, or can be said in journals, never regarded as the sources or the exponents of public opinion, for in these it is too often obvious that only unworthy motives prompt the most vindictive assaults upon the private life of citizens holding public stations.

But the editorial comments in the Herald of Yesterday, although censorious, (of which I do not complain, whilst I read them with regret,) differ so widely in tone and temper from the mass of nonsense and calumny which has been written concerning a recent event in my domestic relations, that I cannot allow a mistake, into which you have been led by inaccurate information to pass without such, a correction as will relieve others from any share of the reproaches which it is the pleasure of the multitude at this moment to heap upon me and mine.

Referring to the forgiveness which my sense of duty and my feelings impelled me to extend an erring and repentant wife, you observe, in the course of your temperate and dignified article, that "It is said, however, that the last phase of the affair was brought about through the advice of his lawyers." This is entirely erroneous. I did not exchange a word with one of my counsel on the subject, nor with any one else. My reconciliation with my wife was my own act, done without consultation with any relative, connection, friend, or adviser. Whatever blame, if any belongs to the step, should fall alone upon me.

I am only prepared to defend what I have done before the only tribunals I recognize as having the slightest claim of jurisdiction over the subject—my own conscience and the bar of Heaven. I am not aware of any statute, or code of morals, which makes it infamous to forgive a woman; nor is it usual to make our domestic life a subject of consultation with friends, no matter how near and dear to us. And I cannot allow even all the world combined to dictate to me the repudiation of my wife, when I think it right to forgive her, and restore her to my confidence and protection.

If I ever failed to comprehend the utterly desolate position of an offending, though penitent woman—the hopeless future, with all its dark possibilities of danger, to which she is doomed when prescribed as an outcast—I can now see plainly enough, in the almost universal howl of denunciation with which she is followed to my threshold, the misery and perils from which I have rescued the mother of my child. And although it is very sad for me to incur the blame of friends and the reproaches of many wise and good people, I shall strive to prove to all who feel any interest in me, that if I am the first man who has ventured to say to the world an erring wife and mother may be forgiven and redeemed, that in spite of all the obstacles in my path the good results of this example shall entitle it to the imitation of the generous and the commendation of the just.

There are many who think that an act of duty, proceeding solely from affections which can only be comprehended in the heart of a husband, a father, is to be fatal to my professional, political and social standing. If this be so, then so be it. Political station, professional success, social recognition, are not the only prizes of ambition; and I have seen enough of the world in which I have moved, and read enough of the lives of others, to teach me that, if one be patent and resolute, it is the man himself who indicates the place he will occupy; and so long as I do nothing worse than to reunite my family under the roof where they may find shelter from contumely and persecution, I do not fear the noisy but fleeting voice of popular clamor.

The multitude accept their impressions from a few; but in the end men think for themselves, and if I know the human heart—and sometimes I think that in a career of mingled sunshine and storm I have sounded nearly all its depths—then I may reassure those who look with reluctant forebodings upon my future to be of good cheer, for I will not cease to vindicate a just claim to the respect of my fellow-citizens; while to those motley groups, here and there who look upon my misfortunes only as weapons to be employed for my destruction, to those I say, once for all, if a man make a good use of his enemies they will be as serviceable to him as his friends.

In conclusion, let me ask only one favor of those, who from whatever motive, may deem it necessary or agreeable to comment in public or private upon this sad history; and that is, to aim all their arrows at my breast, and for the sake of my innocent child to spare her yet youthful mother, while she seeks in sorrow and contrition the mercy and the pardon of Him to whom, sooner or later, we must appeal.

Very respectfully,
Your most obedient servant.
DANIEL E. SICKLES.

RECEIPE FOR DESPONDENCY.

At the close of the New England Conference, just before reading the appointments, Bishop Ames said he was saddened by the thought that the announcement might, in some instances cause pain.—"But," he added," if you ever find any tendency to despondency, let me give you a receipe—Get a little nearer the cross, a little more intimate with Jesus, and however poor or good your station, be it yours, under God, to make it better."

More religion and harder work will certainly effect the cure of any curable tendency of spirits.

A FOREIGNER'S IDEA OF OUR "INSTITUTION."

In the New York Spirit of the Times of the 16th inst., we find the following extract from a letter from an intelligent Englishman, on a visit to Richmond, Va.—The reader will be particularly struck with the manly and honorable manner in which he admits that his former opinions on the subject of slavery, were entirely dispeled by ocular demonstrations:

"Through the kindness of a fine old sportsman, a true Virginian, we were introduced to a good specimen of a noble, if not Royal stock, of six hundred years' pedegree, at least, so the name Lleywellyn implies; be that as it may, to him our thanks for his courtesy are justly due, and are hereby freely offered; to him we are indebted to the proprietor of a very extensive manufacturer of chewing tobacco, and had an opportunity of witnessing the working of the whole process. Interesting as this process naturally was to a stranger, to a reflective mind, the operators were more so—they were a body of powerful, well-made, athletic men, and notwithstanding the dirty nature of their work, they were clean, orderly, and well-behaved—they were healthy, apparently well fed, and well clad, and the picture of happiness. Well, sir, I think I hear you say, and what of that? Why should they not? Because, sir, they were all slaves. But, sir, this is not all; go where you will, the same scene of fun, singing, jollity, and absence of care presents itself wherever you meet these servants, as they are here called, and properly so. I certainly have not, in my travels, met with a class of laborers so well clothed, housed, fed, and enjoying so much real comfort, as these sable people appear to have. I have, sir, been taught from my cradle, to abhor everything connected with the name of slave; but, unfortunately, my teaching did not explain who slaves in this world are. Experience has taught me that they may be found in the cities and large towns in England, (notwithstanding they sing "rule Britania," and swear to the contrary.) Ireland, Scotland and France, amongst the white population; but they are not here, in the South. No, sir, certainly not—the poor industrious laborers of the old countries, know nothing of the comforts and happiness of the slaves in Virginia. Why should it be doubted? Was Washington a good man? Why, certainly; yet he was the owner of slaves. I would have all who believe in the Beecher school of pathetic tales, to come here, and judge for themselves.

"I here freely retract all I have ever said or written, prejudicial to slavery, on the broad principle, that we cannot, except by occular demonstration, know anything about the institution; and, moreover, I think, on reflection, that the gentlemen of the South, know best what they want, and are quite capable of managing their own affairs. They look upon these servants as part and parcel of their family and treat them as such; besides, the laws are equally binding to make a man a good master, as they are to make a man a good servant. Slaves, indeed! Nonsence! No sable here, exists on a shilling a day, as the hard-working, industrious European slaves do. No coroner's jury returns a verdict of "died from want and exposure," on viewing the body of a Southern slave: no newspaper chronicles the death of slave children from ill-treatment; moreover, the mental state of the negro, is highly favorable to health and longevity; he has no regrets for the past, nor hopes for the future; he eats, drinks and sleeps, regardless who pays, while his master is tormented with corroding cares, with anxious days, and sleepless nights, spent in devising the ways and means to support a dependent family or to gratify the aspirations of his position in society for future wealth and fame. The slave knows none of these; his six day's labor o'er, no class of people in the world dress more gaily, or are really more happy on the seventh, than the slaves.

"In conclusion, I would say, let those who are dissatisfied with what I have here said, go and look at the laborers of this climate, and then compare them with the weak and emaciated appearance of the youth of the European Continent, and judge for themselves whether the great Architect of the universe, in His infinite wisdom, has not ordained these matters to be just as they are."

LETTER FROM EX-PRESIDENT PIERCE.

The citizens of the town of Chelmsford, (Mass.) propose to erect a monument in honor of the Revolutionary heroes of that place, and had made arrangements for the inauguration on the 4th of July. Unforeseen obstacles having arisen, the ceremony has been postponed until the 22nd of September. In anticipation of the event, they invited Ex-President PIERCE to be present and received the following reply:

LANGEN SWALBACH, }
Duchy of Nassau, June 2, 1859 }

MY DEAR SIR: I thank you cordially for your kind letter of the 13th of April, which reached Rome after my departure, was returned to Paris, and only came to me yesterday. This reply will not, perhaps, be received before the day designated for the inauguration of the monument to be erected "upon the green in the village of old Chelmsford," but however this may be, my heart will be there with its warmest and best sympathies. When that morning arrives, find me where it may, I shall say, well done, sons and grand-sons, daughters and grand-daughters of the Revolutionary men of old Chelmsford. You mark the anniversary of the Declaration of Independence in a manner most befitting, when you seize it as the day on which to inaugurate a monument to the memory of your fathers, who defended that Declaration with their blood.

I have sometimes trembled for the future of my country as I have seen the gallant, self-sacrificing men, who achieved independence, step one by one from the theatre of their trials and triumphs, until not one probably remains who participated in the opening conflict. While they moved among us the bond of national brotherhood was strong, and recognised no limits but those of the Union. They knew and felt what the institutions of our noble, united country cost, and what was required to preserve them. They cherished an habitual reverence for the Constitution, and yielded a cheerful obedience to all its requirements and to all laws enacted to carry them into faithful execution. They wisely deferred to the august tribunal, established to decide ultimately, questions which might arise involving constitutional right and obligation. It will always be said of them, that they were strong-minded stout-hearted, practical, Union-loving men. From the North to the South, they had fought shoulder to shoulder in the common cause, and the comprehensive and unselfish patriotism which nerved their arms for the struggle, warmed their hearts and inspired their minds, during the deliberation which resulted, under the Providence of God, in the establishment of the admirable system, which has secured to their descendants a degree of individual freedom and happiness, and of National prosperity and advancement, without a parallel in the history of our race. How universally they cherished and loved every sentiment of the Farewell Address of the Father of his Country! They found in it, forcibly expressed, the views and principles which guided them through life, and which they hoped might never cease to command the regard and confidence of their children.—As their words will never again be addressed to your ears, it is well that we omit no means, to honor their memory, to quicken our appreciation of the lessons of wisdom, and to keep alive our admiration of their services and virtues.

The connexion in which you allude to my venerated father revives in my mind many pleasing recollections which had been dormant for years. His attachment to Chelmsford people always struck me as peculiarly strong, especially so as he had never resided there for any length of time after he was sixteen years old, when immediately after the announcement of the battle of Lexington, he joined the army. I observed among the names appended to the prospectus for the mentioned by him, and infer that the signers are sons or grandsons of the friends of his youth. I hope hereafter to know more of them personally.

As late as 1824, there were on one occasion assembled around my father's table some eighteen officers and soldiers who served in the Revolution. They were then all residents of the town, and fourteen of them were in the battle of Bunker Hill. Several of the number I am quite certain were natives of Middle sex county. They have all passed away; but I trust that Hillsborough may be represented by their descendents, on an occasion which they can not fail to regard with much interest.

I endorse herewith a check for $50, which you will please to place in the hands of the committee as a contribution to the monument. Your friend and servant,

FRANKLIN PEARCE.

THE LAKE OF CARDA.

This lake, known in olden times under the name of Benacus, is the largest of Italy; it is thirty-three miles long from Riva at the north to Pescheira at the south; it is one league wide in its upper part, two leagues from Torri to Maderno, and four leagues near the Peninsula of Sermione. It extends from the northeast to the southwest, and is 100 metres higher than the Adriatic. Its depth in some places, and particularly between Gargnano and Castelletto, is as much as three hundred metres.

The principal river, whose waters this lake receives, is the Sarca, which disappearing in it at the north, re-issues from it at Peschiera under the name of Mincio. Numerous sources seem to feed it, for its waters, which are very clear, are near the bottom cold in summer and warm in winter, even when the surface is nearly iced. Its regular winds are the severo (north) and the ora (south). It is exposed to storms, which form very strong waves.

The lake of Garda is famous for the prodigious quantity of fish of different kinds which it feeds, and several of which are remarkable for the delicacy of their flavor, and others for their size. The least are the sardines, which run in swarms in the spring and fall towards the southern shore; salmon, trout, the best fish of the lake; shad, eel, pike, carp, tench, carbel, umber, and above all, the carpion, which, it is said, are to be found in this lake alone, and that of Posta, in the Abruzzes; the toncolos, which are scarce, ablets, which swim in immense banks, &c.

Its shores afford several kinds of shells, which are distinguished for the variety of their colors. An abundant take of fish is to be had in all seasons, and it is the staple of an important commerce. A large number of well populated cities and villages embellish the borders of the lake, and afford safe and convenient harbors. The navigation is very active, the result of an extensive commerce. The principal port is that of Desenzano, whence the grain of the provinces of Mantua and Brescia is exported to Tyrol, and of which the Vino Santo enjoys a great renown.

The other most frequented ports are Salo, a city of 5,000 inhabitants, possessing several remarkable buildings, and situated in the midst of a country covered with olive, orange, lemon, mulberry trees, and vines; Toscolano, the inhabitants of which work at paper manufacturing; Torri, Garda, Limona, Torbola, Peschiera, which send fish to Venice, Milan, and even to Genoa; Toscolano, Maderno, Bardolino, which export manufactured articles, iron, provisions, &c.—Translated from the Paris Pays, June 24, for the New York Herald.

ELIZABETH CITY:

TUESDAY MORNING, AUGUST 2, 1859.

First Congressional District.

FOR CONGRESS:

HENRY M. SHAW,
OF CURRITUCK.

☞ Election, THURSDAY, August 4th.

To the Polls! To the Polls!!

DEMOCRATS / to the Polls on Thursday, and cast your votes for the tried and faithful servant of the people, the HON. H. M. SHAW. For four years he has served you in the high and honorable position given him by your suffrages, and his worst enemies have not been able to put their fingers upon but one act of his to condemn. A single vote—and that vote he cast against the miserable and defunct abomination, distribution—have they or their leader, Mr. Smith, been able to raise an objection. His career has borne the scrutiny of these argus-eyed Oppositionists, and not one has had the temerity to find fault. For such a man then, Democrats, you may well feel proud to battle, and we urge you to the POLLS, to once more record your hearty approval of his faithful public services. VOTE EARLY, and then WORK to the closing of the polls, for your glorious cause and your gallant and fearless champion, and drive back the foe that so fiercely assaults you. You fight for principle, for a glorious cause, for truth, and the Constitution of your country; they fight for power and the spoils. STAND FIRM AND ALL WILL BE WELL.

DEMOCRATS OF THE FIRST DISTRICT!

You have a severe opposition to contend against, an enemy not striving for the good, but for the spoils of the country. They thirst for power—for power which they know not how to wield. They pant after that power which they enjoyed during a brief space, four years ago, and which the sensible, the honest freemen of this Republic, rising en masse, indignantly and justly deprived them of.

We repeat, you have a severe opposition to contend against. They are not formidable for their numbers, or their talents—but for their trickery, and in this district, may truly be termed the forlorn hope. Even now they are reduced to desperation and compelled to resort to bribery. Gen. Leach, Opposition candidate of the Sixth District, personally mixes with "the people," and offers A GOLD DOLLAR A VOTE. The candidate of the model party, in person, buying votes! O tempora, O mores! Not only violating the criminal law, but guilty of an attempt to corrupt the ballot-box, the bulwark of American Liberty.

Democrats of Pasquotank! The Opposition are leaving nothing undone to beat you down. Let them not sagg your minds with doubt, nor cause your hearts to fear. Nerve yourselves for victory, and we'll not fail.

Rally around H. M. Shaw, the statesman, the patriot,

"Who breaks no promise, serves no private end."

Rally around H. M. Shaw, and put to rout that Protean party, which yet works in secret and compounds a medicine potent to raise up the defunct discontented of the land.

The fearless Opposition of Pasquotank claim for Mr. Smith, a majority of 300 in this County. Some of them, however, would content themselves with 275. To a candid mind, a mind free from prejudice, after comparing the vote of the K. N. party in '55, '57 and '58, nothing will appear more absurd. It will be seen at a glance, that no change, or rather one so small as to have no material bearing on the county vote, has taken place. Let facts and figures speak for themselves:

Paine in '55,	Smith, '57,	Pool, '58,	Morgan '58,
540.	532.	531.	529.

Paine, having the highest vote, leads Morgan, the lowest, 11 votes,—Pool 9,—Smith 8. It is worthy of note that the party, during so many changes of name, principles and platforms, have preserved so steady a vote.

On the contrary, the change has been affected by an increase of the Democratic vote.

Shaw, 1855,	Shaw, 1857,	Ellis, 1858
274.	350.	324.

Thus we have a gain for Ellis in 1858. over Shaw in 1855, of 50 votes,—Shaw in 1857, over Shaw in 1855, of 82 votes.

This is encouraging. It is well known that the Opposition in the campaigns noticed above, as they are doing at present, used every exertion to secure the election of their candidates. Yet they twice failed—signally failed! Why did they fail? Because the Democrats worked—aye, worked nobly, gallantly! Then, 'Once more to the breach, dear friends." Democracy expects every patriot to do his duty. Work yourselves—persuade your friends to work.

ONCE MORE FRIENDS TO THE BREACH!

Thursday is the great day of battle, and again, Democrats, you are called upon to stand firm in the defence of your principles; again you are called upon to rally to your standard and save it from the hands that would strike it to the dust. It now waves proudly, and bids a stern defiance to our enemies; shall it continue to float in triumph, or will you stand back and see it torn from its high position and trampled under foot? We know you will not, and that you are determined that once more victory shall be ours. THEN FRIENDS TO THE REPUBLIC.

THE DIFFERENCE.

In the canvass now about to close, there has been a marked and striking difference between the conduct of the Democracy, and that of the "Opposition." On the one side, we have had a bold and unequivocal enunciation of principles; on the other, a careful system of non-committalism, a catalogue of gross and baseless charges, avoiding specifications, made up of vague generalities, "conceived in sin, and brought forth in iniquity." The Democracy has based its claim to the favorable consideration of the people, for the measures which it proposes and advocates, upon a belief in their capacity and ability to judge for themselves, to detect error, and to estimate rightly the tendency and bearing of the principles which it lays down as the fundamental rule of its action. It has ever relied upon the sound and sober sense of the masses, confident in their intelligence, their honesty, and their repugnance to wrong. The "Opposition," whether fighting under the name of Whig, Know-Nothing, or anything else, have always given evidence of their contempt for the intelligence of the people, and have depended solely for success, in appeals to their passions, and to deceive them in their ignorance. No stronger or more forcible testimony of the truth of this assertion, need be offered, than is found in the rise, progress, and downfall of that chief of humbugs—that climax of deceptions—that combination of bigotry, superstition, and intolerance, the Know Nothing or "American" order. Its very foundation was laid in a belief that the people were shrouded in mental darkness; that their minds were clouded by ignorance and superstition, and that they could be made the easy victims, by inflaming their passions and arousing their prejudices, to the dishonest designs and unworthy purposes of the leaders in that glaring and monstrous piece of political chicanery.

Another offspring of the contempt for bone and sinew of the land, is the present attempt to delude them into the support of their candidates, by raising the cry of extravagance and corruption against the administration, by besmearing the venerable and honored chief magistrate of this glorious Republic with their filthy slime, by making him out the chief among rogues and the accomplished leader of a gang of unmitigated scoundrels, by representing the various departments of the government as dens of robbery and sinks of festering pollution, and by charging the entire Democratic party with every species of rascality, villainy and fraud, and making themselves the purest christians, patriots, and saints, that ever lived since the day that holy Enoch was transported to Heaven for his goodness without being called upon to experience the pains of death.—Without proof, without specification, without an attempt to itemize the various pieces of corruption and extravagance, which, they allege, have been practiced by the administration, they expect the people to take their mere ipse dixit as gospel truth, notwithstanding their past history bears the damning proof of the deceptions which they have palmed off upon the honest and unthinking voter. The whole scheme to impair the confidence of the people in the honesty, integrity, and fidelity of the Democratic party, originates in the belief that the masses are too ignorant to think or examine for themselves, and the most absurd, gross, and unfounded statements will be received as facts, and their falsity never be detected by those most concerned.—But the sound, sober, discriminating judgment of the American people will prove too much for the trickery of these designing political jugglers; their feats of legerdemain are too bunglingly performed not to be detected by the shrewd, intelligent, and honest of the land; and however much their contempt may be for the popular intellect, it will not avail them in the day of trial.

RENEGADES.

The "Opposition" are claiming that they have made many changes during the present canvass for Mr. Smith, and that many Democrats have quit their own party and gone over to them. They charge all men with being "RENEGADES" who reverse their political opinions, consequently, in Opposition parlance, those Democrats are RENEGADES. The Raleigh Register, the Opposition State organ, says, that "THE WHIG PEOPLE OF NORTH CAROLINA FEEL A POLITICAL "DETESTATION" FOR ALL RENEGADES." What think you of that, RENEGADE DEMOCRATS, if there be such a thing. You are told by these men, that would use you for their purposes, that the "WHIG PEOPLE OF NORTH CAROLINA "POLITICALLY DETEST RENEGADES," in the same breath that they are asking you to desert your principles, and vote for Wm. N. H. Smith.

Oppositionism calls this treason, and they candidly tell you they despise you as traitors. If there be any man who has previously acted with the Democracy, and intends now to vote for Mr. Smith, let him remember the words of the State organ, the Raleigh Register, which, speaking of the Hon. Mr. Stephens, of Georgia, says:—"THE WHIG PEOPLE OF NORTH CAROLINA HOLD HIM IN THE SAME DETESTATION, POLITICALLY, THAT THEY FEEL FOR ALL RENEGADES."

HARD PUSHED.

The State criticises a sentence in our last. The error was clearly the work of the printer. Our neighbor is welcome to all the capital he can make out of it. "Drowning men catch at straws."

MR. SMITH AND THE DEBTORS OF THE FARMERS' BANK.

Mr. Smith has sought to make capital with the farming interest in the present canvass, by objecting to Dr. Shaw's vote on the Agricultural College Bill, and parading, with a great flourish of trumpets, the advantages to be reaped by the farmer from the passage of this bill. Mr. Smith may be a great friend to the farmer, and he may be also a great friend to the poor man, but there are some little things—and straws show which way the wind blows—in his legislative course which strike us as indicating a different feeling. We have before copied an article from the Murfreesboro' Citizen, showing his vote upon the Homestead Bill of Col. Outlaw, which Bill proposed to protect the unfortunate debtor in some degree from the hands of the rapacious and grasping creditor. Mr. Smith, with more sympathy for the latter than for the poor man groaning under the burden of debt, voted against Col. Outlaw's Bill and thus refused to provide a small home—fifty acres we think—for him in the hour of adversity. Another act of his while a member of the last Legislature indicates pretty strongly the current of his feelings and sympathies. When the bill to amend the charter of the Farmers' Bank was before the House of Commons, Mr. Badham of Chowan proposed an amendment, that all suits on bills, bonds and notes now in progress should be continued in Pasquotank and not removed to Guilford county." Had it not been for this amendment, all suits commenced by the Farmers' Bank against persons in this section could, upon the removal of the Parent Bank to Guilford, have been carried there, and those persons against whom the suits were pending, been forced to the inconvenience and expense of leaving home to attend the court of that county. The amendment of Mr. Badham was a wise and judicious one, and we are glad to say, was adopted in opposition to the efforts of Mr. Wm. N. H. Smith, who contended, that it "placed an unfair restriction on the Bank in recovering her just debts." Mr. Smith cared not for the convenience of those who were indebted to the Bank, and who were unable to encounter the outlay and loss of time necessarily attendent upon a trip to the western part of the State, but for the Bank, which, everybody knows, would have been aided in recovering her just debts as readily by a court in Pasquotank as by a Guilford court, he was all care and attention. Col. Outlaw came to the assistance of Mr. Badham, and properly argued "that it was the duty of the House to protect the debtors of the Bank." This is a portion of Mr. Smith's legislative record, and is a fair criterion by which to judge the man.

We called attention to this act of Mr. Smith at the time, and our notice of it can be found in the Pioneer of the 8th February, 1859. Such is Mr. Smith's feelings for the poor and the oppressed.

THE POSITION OF HUMPHREY MARSHALL, OF KENTUCKY.

The Louisville Courier states that Col. Humphrey Marshall has declared that if he was in Congress, with parties organized as at present, he would vote for the Democratic candidate for Speaker, and that if the next election of President was thrown into the House, and he was a member of it, he would vote for the Democratic candidate.

What a contrast, this, with the non-committal policy of Mr. Wm. N. H. Smith, the Opposition candidate for Congress in this district. Mr. Marshall has long been recognized as the leader of the American party, but he knows full well, as Mr. Smith knows, that the Democratic party is the only hope of the South in the coming contest, and he boldly proclaims his determination to vote with that party in its choice of speaker and in the election of President, should the election go to the House. Mr. Smith is mum upon these questions, and when interrogated as to his course in the Presidential election, says it will be time enough for him to answer next year. Will you, voters of the district, give your suffrages to such a man? He is afraid to answer a simple question of the kind referred to, and yet he desires your votes. Will you trust him when he will not trust you?

"THE PIONEER A BLACK REPUBLICAN."

The 'State' devotes nearly a half column to prove that by our own argument, we are a Black Republican. Its deductions pass for nothing. By the course of reasoning adopted by the 'State,' we can show that it is sailing under false colors. Duncan McRae was a distribution Democrat.—The editors—or editor—of the 'State,' voted for Duncan McRae,—ergo—the editors of the 'State' are distribution democrats.

But we have noticed the article of the 'State' merely to say that, while it could devote large space to a matter of no consequence it could not devote a line to correct the error into which it has fallen in regard to Dr. Shaw. The 'State' asserted that Dr. Shaw had been in Congress for the last two years, and through that entire period had allowed attacks upon the institutions of the South without once 'raising his voice' in their defence. We pointed out the error of the 'State,' referred it to the Globe, vol. and page, for his speeches, and respectfully called upon that paper to do Dr. Shaw justice; it fails to do so. It consumes a half column to a few lines from the article in which we made the call, but not a word does it favor us with on the point at issue. If we were wrong, why not correct us? If the 'State' was wrong why not do Dr. Shaw the justice to put him right? We must confess our surprise at the course of the 'State.'

☞ DEMOCRATS, go to the polls on Thursday next, vote for Dr. Shaw, and save your country.

MASS MEETING
IN PERQUIMANS!

Great Gathering of the Democracy!!

THE DEMOCRATIC FIRES BURNING BRIGHTLY!!

INTENSE ENTHUSIASM!!

ABLE AND ELOQUENT SPEECHES!

HON. THOMAS BRAGG
IN ATTENDANCE!

The Meeting addressed by Messrs. Martin, Moore, Albertson, Baxter, Johnson, Bragg, and Starke.

We were present at Cedar Grove, on Thursday, the 28th ult., and witnessed one of the largest and most enthusiastic meetings of the Democracy that is has been our fortune to attend for several years.—Democrats were there from the adjacent counties, and the Perquimans Democracy welcomed them as brethren in a common cause, who had met together to hear their party defended, and also to hear the distinguished gentlemen of the Democratic party—that party, whose principles have so often met the approval of the American people, and which will be again endorsed by the voters of this District, in the re-election of Hon. H. M. SHAW to the next Congress of the United States.

The meeting was addressed by Messrs. W. F. Martin, J. W. Moore, and Jona. W. Albertson, in eloquent speeches, in which "Oppositionism" was handled with gloves off, and the charges brought against the Democratic party answered to the satisfaction of every unprejudiced mind. We will not do injustice to the gentlemen by noticing their speeches further than to say that they were able and forcible, and drew forth the applause of their friends.

B. M. Baxter, Esq., of Currituck, made a few remarks, assuring the Democracy that his County will rally to the support of her talented son on Thursday next, and give the majority thrown for him at the last election, if she does not increase that majority. After he had concluded, the immense throng proceeded to discuss the creature comforts prepared in the greatest abundance for the occasion.

In the afternoon, L. J. Johnson, Esq., took the stand, and, in refuting a false charge of the Opposition, delivered one of the most eloquent speeches of the canvass.

Hon. Thomas Bragg then arose, amidst the wildest demonstrations of applause, and for upwards of three hours rivited the attention of his hearers with one of his happiest efforts. He gave a history of the "Opposition" that now stands arrayed against the Democracy; answered the stale charges of "corruption" and "extravagance," now being sounded throughout the State; proved that a member of the Opposition party—a "National American"—had "chiseled" the government out of several thousand dollars, whilst holding office to which he was elected by the votes of South Americans and Black Republicans. This speech of Gov. Bragg animated those who heard it, and we believe that its good effect will be seen in the vote which Perquimans will roll up for the Democratic candidate on the day after to-morrow.

L. D. Starke, Esq., of Pasquotank, addressed the large concourse in his own happy way, dealing the Opposition heavy blows. Mr. S.'s speech was characterized by strong argument and withering sarcasm, and he was frequently applauded in its delivery.

The meeting then adjourned, and the people departed for their respective homes.

☞ "LET THE PEOPLE REMEMBER, that Dr. Shaw has declared, that "if the Ship of State is ever manned by a Black-republican crew, and a Black-republican placed at the helm," HE WOULD BE THE MAN TO SCUTTLE THE SHIP AND LET HER SINK. N. P. Banks said "let the Union slide," and the just indignation of the people was aroused from one end of the Country to the other. Why should not a similar feeling be aroused against a similar expression from Dr Shaw?—State.

And why did not the State add that Mr. Fillmore said the very same thing in substance. In the celebrated Albany speech, the "model President," in speaking of the possible election of Fremont, said: "Can they have the madness or folly to believe that our southern brethren would submit to be governed by such a Chief Magistrate?

Suppose that the South having a majority of the electoral votes, should declare that they would only have slave holders for President and Vice President, and should elect such by their exclusive suffrages to rule over us at the North. Do you think we would submit to it? No, not for a moment. And do you believe that your southern brethren are less sensitive on this subject than you are, or less jealous of their rights? If you do, let me tell you, that you are mistaken. And therefore, you must see that if this sectional party succeeds, it leads inevitably to the destruction of this beautiful fabric, reared by our forefathers, cemented by their blood, and bequeathed to us as a priceless inheritance."

This is the language of Mr. Fillmore, for whom the editors of the State voted, after it had been uttered. They have since eulogized him above all other men save Washington, and yet he has enunciated substantially the same sentiment for which Dr. Shaw is denounced. If it is treason in the latter, why not in Mr. Fillmore? Did the editors of the State believe that to entertain such an opinion as is imputed to Dr. Shaw, was sufficient to bring down the condemnation of the people? If so, why did they "vote for Mr. Fillmore for President?" Oh, consistency!

Mr. Fillmore was the greatest man that ever lived, always excepting Washington, according to the opinion of our cotemporary, and yet he said to elect a Black Republican President would be a good cause for sinking the old ship. Dr. Shaw said the same thing, so say our neighbors, and he is a disunionist.

The game cannot be played.

RALLY DEMOCRATS, RALLY!!!

And come up to the polls on the 4th, Thursday, and cast your votes for that true, talented, and worthy son of old Currituck, H. M. SHAW. He has borne your banner gloriously through the campaign, and defended your cause bravely and successfully, despite the efforts to crush him. It now remains for you to sustain him at the polls; come up like men and by one blow, send this last remanant of bragging Know Nothingism back to its culverts.

UBIQUITOUS.—The Pioneer announced, on Tuesday last, that Mr. Bragg would speak, on Thursday, at both Cedar Grove in Perquimans, and Allyn Ward's in Chowan. We have not yet learned whether he did so or not. We suppose this is rather to get large crowds out, than to create the impression that the gentleman is ubiquitous. Speaking in two counties at the same time, is certainly a wonderful achievement. Great men are the Pioneer and Mr. Bragg!!—State.

We are sorry to see the State so hard up. In the notice headed "Mass Meeting," we distinctly stated that the Perquimans meeting would be on Thursday, and that of Chowan on Friday. In a separate notification of the latter meeting, Thursday was placed there by the printer, and escaped the eye of the proof-reader. Both notices were read by the State, and he must have known that it was a typographical error. However, we will not complain of our neighbor, seeing that it is in a straight. We are quite amiable and agreeable, and will, therefore, allow it to have its own way. We will simply remark in passing, that the Democracy promised the people that they should hear Gov. Bragg, both in Perquimans and Chowan, and, like all Democratic promises, it was faithfully kept. The "Opposition" promised that Mr. Rayner would be in Camden, Pasquotank and Perquimans, and, true to its history, the promise was broken, and he did not make his appearance at either place. Perhaps, this was intended "to get large crowds out." Are we correct, neighbor?

"By the acts of the Whig party, the State has been saddled with a heavy debt that is not due," &c.—Pioneer.

Well! that's cool! there is certainly ice about that! "By the acts of the Whig party, the State has been saddled with a heavy debt"? Oh! don't, neighbor, don't—you'll murder credulity in cold blood!—State.

Doubtless, the above had rather a chilly effect upon the ardor and expectations of the State editors. To expose the conduct of the "Opposition" is always to throw cold water upon their hopes and calculations. No wonder our friends of the State thought there was 'ice' about.

Seriously, would it not have been as easy for the State to have produced the record, and thus refuted the charge, as to seek to evade it by ridicule. It would have required but the writing of a few lines more, if the record sustained them. Why did they not do it? Because by the production of the journals, the "Opposition" would have stood convicted of the responsibility of the present State indebtedness and of the present high taxes.

Produce the record of the votes upon the appropriations which have caused the high rates of taxation with which the people are now burdened, Messrs. Editors of the State, if you dare; let the people see who are responsible. Will you do it?

"THREE HUNDRED MAJORITY."

The "Opposition" claim 300 majority for Smith in this county. It strikes us that they would compromise for 200, and then think they had made a fortunate bargain. Our friends at a distance need put no confidence in such calculations; it is the bragg game played over. Their gains in this county exist in their own fruitful imaginations, no reality whatever. We have been careful in making enquiry on this point, and we can hear of but three men in the whole county, who have changed, and we know of more than that who have come over to us. If there is a falling off from our usual vote, it will be by the absence of some of our sturdy watermen. We do not believe there will be much variation from the usual majority in this county.

THE STATE STILL CRITICAL.

Our neighbor takes exception to our use of the word 'stink,' and in the same paper we find 'certain ones' charged with telling 'LIES.' The capitals belong to the State. Our language might have been in bad taste, but is the State a very proper one to tell us of it? As that paper has criticised our orthography, we will return the favor, and tell it that black has a k at the termination instead af an h; democratic is spelled d-e-m-o-c-r-a-t-i-c, and not d-e-m-o-c-t-a-t-i-e, and that republican has re and not ra. We know that all these are typographical errors, unavoidable sometimes, and we only refer to them to show that the 'State' should be more charitable.

PRETTY GOOD.

A good natured, but rather sanguine, member of the Opposition was boasting the other day, that the district would be carried by 300 for Smith. 'Put down the figures,' said a democrat standing by, 'and let us see how you arrive at such a conclusion.' The over sanguine gentleman proceeded to put down his majorities, county by county, until he had finished the list. Add them up'—said the democrat, which he did, and came out with a clear majority of 186 for Dr. Shaw. His face, usually round and jolly, lengthened like a fishing rod, and he wound up by exclaiming, 'Well, I'll be d———d, if there aint a screw loose somewhere.'

THE PROSPECT.

Our intelligence from all sections of the District is of the most cheering character, and leads us to believe confidently that the Hon. H. M. Shaw will be returned to Congress. In Halifax, Northampton, Hertford—Smith's own county—and Martin, our gains will be considerable; Currituck will poll her full strength for her gallant and favorite son, and in every other county we shall hold our own. Our friends are in the finest spirits. The braggadocio of the "Opposition" is well understood by the Democracy, and has long since lost its influence. They talk big before an election and make excuses for it afterwards.—Let them talk on; it is their only comfort. The Democracy, we believe, will triumph on Thursday, by an increased majority.

☞ "Our neighbor over the way is frightened out of his wits. He calls upon the faithful to rally—he begs—he exhorts. We fear he begins to think Dr. Shaw will not 'rally every Democrat to his support!! The day of threatning is passed with him, and he begs, as man never begged before!—State.

Indeed! Then we cannot see how the opposition candidate, Mr. Smith, has kept his wits about him, for never did man "beg" for votes as he has 'begged' through the present canvass, and we add, the columns of the State exhibits the same cause for alarm.

REMEMBER,

That Mr. Smith refused to vote for Col. Outlaw's Homestead Bill, which saved to the honest debtor, a home for his wife and little ones, from the wreck of his hard earnings. Col. Outlaw felt for the destitution of the unfortunate, and wished to interpose the arm of the law of the State, between him and his merciless creditors. Mr. Smith said "NO" to this humane proposition. What think you of his vote?

REMEMBER ON THURSDAY,

That Mr. Smith is the representative of a party that refuses to declare to the people the measures by which it proposes to govern them. Remember, that you, INDEPENDENT VOTERS, have the right to know the principles of those who seek your suffrages, and that Mr. Smith and his party positively deny to you that right. You are to take them on trust. Will you do it?

REMEMBER,

That the Raleigh Register, the central opposition paper, says "the WHIG PEOPLE OF NORTH CAROLINA DETESTS RENEGADES, and with the "Whig people of North Carolina" every man that changes his politics is a RENEGADE. So if there be one Democrat who intends voting for Mr. Smith, remember the estimate placed upon you by these "Whig people of North Carolina." The Register says they DETEST RENEGADES.

☞ The State calls the Democratic meeting in Perquimans a "Democratic starvation." If there was any scarcety we were not aware of it. From the wriggling, twisting, turning, and ugly faces of the opposition who were present, we rather thought that they had eaten too much and were suffering from colic.

It might have been however, that in the absence of bread, they had partaken too freely of Bragg's grapes. Some of the "old coons" we know were terribly exercised.

REMEMBER,

That in the last Congress, J. A Gilmer the only Opposition member from North Carolina, voted for thirty millions of dollars for appropriations over and above those voted for by Dr. Shaw, and that Mr. Gilmer has been endorsed by the 'Opposition' as a trusty and faithful representative of this party, and must endorse these votes. THIRTY MILLIONS OF DOLLARS more voted for by the 'Opposition' member than by Dr. Shaw at one session of Congress!! What think you of that?

☞ "The great "chronicler" of the Pioneer, has disgraced his ancient exemplar of Holy Writ by spelling turtle—turkle." Our neighbor should send his "chronicler" to the free-school, a while longer, to improve his spelling.—State.

Our "chronicler" would have been unfaithful to his work had he spelled "turtle" otherwise than t-u-r-k-l-e. We like our reports to be correct. If the State would have the words of its orators spelled correctly it must teach them better pronunciation.

[For the Democratic Pioneer.]

YELLOW SPRINGS, VA., July 25, 1859.

I have allowed myself to get two weeks in arrears. I could not regret it however, for I knew your columns were needed in the glorious work of the campaign, and as I am not even in smelling distance of the gunpowder, I could not aid you.

As you know, I left home sick two weeks ago. Besides myself, my children were all sick, and it was some time after we got to the Mountains, before we could abandon the use of medicine; yet, I have never been lacking in interest, and, if I am not at home to vote, my arrangements are such that Smith will neither gain, nor Shaw lose by my absence.

On my arrival at the Montgomery White, Billy Moore, of Edenton, was the first man I saw. It seems that our friend had strayed off from a bridal party, with whom he started on a honey-moon tour, and was just dodging about on his own hook anywhere. He left here on horseback for the Salt, Old White, &c., and expected to reach home before the election.

Mr. John Pool and lady, arrived at the Montgomery on Saturday, from Tennessee, but left, I think, to-day, for home.

The Proprietor of the Pistol Gallery, over there, accidentally shot himself on Saturday last, just as he was about to set out on a hunt. He was a very kind-hearted, jovial fellow, and everybody who knew him, liked him, and his death was severely regretted by a large number of the visitors.

There are about five hundred visitors at the Montgomery White now, two hundred strong, at the Aleghany, and one hundred here. I learn there are about eight hundred at the Old White, sixty at the Old Sweet, twenty at the Red Sweet, and fifty to sixty at the Salt.

They will assemble more rapidly after the Tennessee and North Carolina elections, both of which, occur at the same day.

In Tennessee, by the way, the Know Nothings admit that they do not think Netherland can be elected.

This is a sweet little place, and I am over here to spend a few days, to try the water on my little ones.

The place is excellently kept, and the fare as sumptuous as a man ought to desire. It is cool, shady, and high up among the Mountain tops. To the Montgomery from here, is five miles, and to the Christiansburg depot, is not quite so far. Hacks and stages, are kept running all the time, to connect with every train of cars, and are run daily, between here and the Montgomery White.

Messrs. Wm. H. Gray and family, J. G. Lockhart and family, Dr. W. S. Moody, and Mr. John M. Moody, Jr., of N. C., are among the visitors here. The place is very quiet and home-like, and all enjoy it.

KIP SLAP.

THE FULL OFFICAL VOTE AT LAST.

The Secretary of the Commonwealth, Col. Munford, has now made up, with full reliability, as to its being officially correct, the vote for Governor of Virginia at the last election. As the returns for Governor and Lieutenant Governor will be officially published, next week, in the "Enquirer," we will merely give to-day the figures of the votes, and majority for Mr. Letcher over Mr. Goggin in the State. The official report gives VALUABLE FARM FOR SALE.—THE subscriber offers for sale his FARM situated in Craven County on lower Broad and Orchard Creeks, near Neuse River, seven miles from the town of Jackson, containing 2500 acres, more or less, several hundred of which are prime Swamp Land, about 200 acres cleared, the remainder in woods, which is excellent timber, suitable for building or ship purposes. There are about 100 acres ditched, deadened, under-bushed and the yard wood cut, a small amount of labor would prepare it for cultivation. There are also two crops of Turpentine Boxes on it.

The Land is well adapted to Cotton, Corn, Wheat, Potatoes, &c., and is highly susceptible of improvement. The facilities for shipping are rarely equalled.

The improvements consist of a fine large Dwelling, Kitchen, Smoke-House, Gin-House, Barns, Stables, and Negro Houses sufficient to accommodate Fifty Negroes, together with all other necessary out-buildings, in good order. The Garden and Orchard abound in a great variety of the choicest Fruits, viz: Grapes, Figs, Raspberries, Strawberries, Cherries, Apples, Pears and Peaches. Oysters and Fish may be taken in abundance from the creek a the back of the garden, and Wild Fowl, in great variety, abound in the vicinity.—There is also a good mill site, with dam already constructed on the place. There is a good well of water in the yard.

The premises have the reputation of being healthy and the situation is desirable, and my only object in desiring to sell is the fact that I intend to quit farming.

Persons wishing to buy can apply to me on the premises, or to J. Gooding, sr., at Newbern.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

BRIMFIELD, MASS., 20th Dec., 1858.

DR. J. C. AYER: I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your CHERRY PECTORAL. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of those complaints. EBEN KNIGHT, M. D.

A. B. MORTLEY, Esq., of UTICA, N. Y., writes: "I have used your Pectoral myself and in my family ever since you invented it, and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I should sooner pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than do without it, o take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.

SPRINGFIELD, MISS., Feb. 7, 1858.

BROTHER AYER: I will cheerfully certify your Pectoral is the best remedy we possess for the cure of whooping cough, croup, and the chest diseases of children. We all your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people.

HIRAM CONKLIN, M. D.

AMOS LEE, Esq., MONTEZUMA, Ia., writes, 21 Jan., 1856: "I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took many medicines without relief; finally tried your Pectoral by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisie, and Bronchitis.

WEST MANCHESTER, Pa., Feb. 4, 1856.

SIR: Your Cherry Pectoral is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years. HENRY L. PARKS, Merchant.

A. A. RAMSEY, M. D., ALBION, MONROE Co., Iowa, writes, Sept. 6, 1855: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your Cherry Pectoral for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.

Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach; but even to these the Cherry Pectoral affords relief and comfort.

ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK CITY, March 5, 1856.

DOCTOR AYER: Longest I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your Cherry Pectoral has done for my wife. She had been five months labo

The Engravings will be executed in the highest style of art, from Photographs and original designs illustrating the various phases of the City.—

ANCIENT, MEDIEVAL, MODERN AND MILLENNIAL,

Also, Restoration of the Temple and City as invested by Titus.—Notices of its Jewish, Christian, and Heathen Antiquities—Its Present Political and Moral Condition—Future Prospects, &c.

This work is the result of investigations made during three and a half years' residence in the Holy City, with facilities for prosecuting researches never heretofore enjoyed. It was undertaken with special reference to the elucidation of the Holy Scriptures, the Talmud, the Works of Josephus, the Crusaders, and Pilgrim Chroniclers. The many valuable discoveries made in the Temple Enclosure, and other sacred localities, to which Dr. Barclay was admitted by special Firman, with permission to explore those hallowed spots, so jealously guarded for many centuries, and now for the first time presented to the Christian public, will introduce a new era in Sacred Topography.

A VALUABLE FARM FOR SALE
IN NORFOLK CO., VA.

IT lies on the Dismal Swamp Canal, about 7 miles from Deep Creek and 14 from Norfolk, and contains from 1200 to 1500 acres, about 150 to 200 of which are now in arable order, the balance in original forest.

The soil is adapted to the production of Indian corn and other crops usually cultivated in that section. About 5 or 600 acres of the tract would make as fine a farm as any in Eastern Virginia; adjoining lands of similar quality unimproved, have produced from 14 to 15 barrels of corn per acre, and the wood and timber on the land would pay every expense of clearing, when it would be worth $50 per acre.

It presents, also, great facilities for carrying on the wood business. Immense quantities of the best quality could be sold at paying prices at Norfolk or on the Canal bank, along which the land stretches for several miles. The facilities of water carriage would also render the trucking business profitable.

There is a large Juniper swamp on the tract, valuable for its rail and shingle timber.

The pasturage and range for Stock is unsurpassed. A free School is within one mile of the dwelling. Persons desirous of purchasing the referred to Messrs. George T. Wallace and John West, who live near the place, and to Mr. Benjamin T. Tatem, near Norfolk, who will take pleasure in showing the land.

For further information and terms, which will be liberal, apply to

JOSEPH T. TATEM.

LAND FOR SALE.

I HAVE the following tracts of land for sale, viz: One of fifty acres, one of sixty acres, one of one hundred and fourteen acres, one of two hundred acres, one of five hundred acres. This tract has superior improvements, with enough cleared land to bring two thousand barrels of Corn; within one mile of the river, and six miles of Norfolk City. One tract of five hundred and eighty acres, immediately on the river, a mulatto soil, well adapted to grain, grass, and early vegetables, within six miles of Norfolk City by water.—One tract of thirteen hundred and sixty five acres, heavily wooded, and immediately on the river, and one of twenty eight hundred acres, through which two Rail Roads pass, is within ten miles of Portsmouth. This land is exceedingly rich, well timbered, and wooded. And also a Steam Saw Mill in good order, with a planing machine attached, now at work daily, will be sold, a great bargain, if early application be made to Mr. John T. Argyle, at the Mill, or myself, all of which property owing to my waning health, I am determined to sell. And therefore respectfully invite persons in want of such property to give me an early call. INFIRMARY FOR SLAVES.
ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.

THE SUBSCRIBER has opened at the Marine Hospital (in a separate building) an INFIRMARY FOR INVALID SLAVES. He has ample accommodations for a limited number, and will give them his careful attention—supplying them with every necessary their case requires. An Institution of this kind offers many advantages to masters having servants afflicted with chronic or surgical diseases. And, from its economy, they are relieved of the expense and annoyance of having such upon a plantation.

The charges for Board, Medical attendance, Nursing, and Medicine, are $6 per week, payable upon the removal of the patient.

In cases requiring a surgical operation, in addition to the above rates, a fee varying from $2 to $30, in different cases, will be charged for the operation, the particulars of which may be ascertained upon application at the Infirmary.

The services of any other regular Physician will be allowed, at the expense of the master.

Persons in the country desiring to send patients to the Infirmary, or obtain information concerning it, may address the subscriber.

☞ No contagious diseases admitted.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 1, 1859.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a few doses of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, and they cleanse at once. If they will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,

SIR: I have used your Pills in my family and in my practice ever since you made them, and consider them in many they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and efficient. Generally they are an admirable remedy for derangement of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of Liver Complaint so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them.
